

Comment from Tim Edwards

This a cost that should be paid by the manufacturer of the product. Why should the motorist have to pay for it? Also the person whose vehicle it is installed in should have the option of turning it off and taking it out of the vehicle.