

Comment from Donald Sherman

Am strongly opposed to any imposition of a mandate for all new vehicles sold in the United States to be equipped with two way communications devices. As with many other items, the communications devices should be a matter of consumer choice and dealer offers, not on the dictates of unelected officials in Washington, District of Columbia!