

Comment from David Campbell

Why is NHTSA allowing this farce to continue for this long? People's lives are at risk. It seems GM's tactic is to keep stalling, knowing the longer they can put off a recall, the fewer cars they'll have to repair. Who cares about their customers. I won't be buying GM again.